Staff Reporter

There is no blueprint in life and the success of what one is, depends on how dedicated and true one remains to their professional integrity, said K. Narayana Kurup, former acting Chief Justice of the Madras High Court.

Speaking to students at Nav Nirman Public School, he said many of the students here might not be able to take up a profession that they aspire for. But it does not call for any despondency in life. "Whatever be your profession, do according to the dictates of your conscience with public good uppermost in the mind", he said. Giving a call to resist addiction of any kind, Mr. Kurup spoke on the ill-effects of tobacco and made a presentation of the documentary 'Battling the Epidemic' that depicted the hazards of tobacco use. At the function, C.V. Paul, chairman of the school, presided.

Jabeena Abraham, secretary, Anjana Abraham, vice-president spoke.
